

MAY 2016

P/ID 17901/PMSA

Time : Three hours

Maximum : 100 marks

PART A — (10 × 2 = 20 marks)

Answer ALL questions each in 50 words.

1. Define health.
2. What does it mean by illness behaviour?
3. Write a note on heart diseases.
4. State the meaning of infectious diseases.
5. What are the symptoms of tuberculosis?
6. How diabetes can be detected?
7. Define Ergonomics.
8. What is silicosis?
9. Enumerate the qualities of a physician.
10. Give an account of nursing.

PART B — (5 × 6 = 30 marks)

Answer ALL questions each in 200 words.

11. (a) Enumerate the objectives of medical sociology.

Or

- (b) List out the effects of illness on family.

12. (a) Distinguish between sociology in medicine and sociology of medicine.

Or

- (b) Briefly explain the sociological perspectives of health and health care.

13. (a) Point out the causes and consequences of obesity.

Or

- (b) Write a note on the issues and challenges of malaria control.

14. (a) Suggest measures to prevent the spread of occupational diseases.

Or

- (b) Highlight the features of common occupational diseases.

15. (a) Give an account of professionalization of physician.

Or

- (b) Bring out the functions of a modern hospital.

PART C — (5 × 10 = 50 marks)

Answer ALL questions each in 500 words.

16. (a) Write an essay on the historical development of medical sociology.

Or

- (b) Critically examine the major issues and concerns of medical sociology.

17. (a) Summarise the importance of preventive and protective hygienic habits.

Or

- (b) Describe the nature and scope of social gerontology.

18. (a) “Infectious diseases will last as long as humanity itself”. – Comment.

Or

- (b) Critically evaluate the causes and consequences of obesity.

19. (a) Outline and assess the merits of social epidemiology.

Or

(b) Critically analyse the interrelationship between socio-cultural factors and health in India.

20. (a) Elucidate the role of primary and secondary groups in hospital settings.

Or

(b) Discuss the problems and prospects of cost of hospitalization.
