

MAY 2016

P/ID 5957/MSG

Time : Three hours

Maximum : 100 marks

Answer any FIVE questions.

(5 × 20 = 100)

1. Define research. Discuss in detail the objectives and types of scientific research.
2. Discuss in detail the steps adopted in the formulation of research problem.
3. Define sampling. Explain the characteristics of good sampling and the techniques involved in sampling.
4. Explain the need for hypothesis. Discuss various types of hypothesis.
5. What are style manuals? Explain their importance with examples.
6. Write about the use of measure of central tendency and distendency in social science research.
7. Discuss the advantages of survey method of research in social science.
8. Explain the role of observation method in social science research.

9. Write short notes on any THREE of the following:
- (a) Experimental methods of research.
 - (b) Documentary sources.
 - (c) Graphic presentation.
 - (d) Research report.
 - (e) SPSS.
 - (f) Historical methods of research.
-