

entrance essay

For almost as long as I can remember, I have been interested in the military. Influenced by such movies as "Patton", and by my dad's interest in military history, my interest grew. More recently, my interest in military affairs has been encouraged by ROTC community service activities, through learning about leadership as a participant in the cadet chain of command, and from teachers at _____ who support our efforts to meet our goals.

Encouraged by my interest in "Patton" and military strategies, my dad began to share his interest in military history as I grew older. This interest extended out to interest in battleships and battles. Family vacations were sometimes planned around visits to places such as the Russian fort, Fort Ross north of San Francisco.
