

MAY 2014

P/ID 17908/PMSH

Time : Three hours

Maximum : 100 marks

PART A — (10 × 2 = 20 marks)

Answer ALL questions.

Each answer should not exceed 50 words.

1. Give an operational definition of health.
2. Enumerate the characteristic features of health care.
3. Define unofficial organization.
4. Bring out the importance of nursing profession.
5. List out the guidelines of admitting a patient into the ward.
6. State the procedure of learning the routine in the ward.
7. Identify the requisites of an ideal organization.
8. Write a note on service organization.
9. Point out the need for planning in hospitals.
10. Highlight the significance of project report.

PART B — (5 × 6 = 30 marks)

Answer ALL questions.

11. (a) State the philosophy of health provision.
Or
(b) Highlight the focus of health provision.
12. (a) Enumerate the characteristics of official organization.
Or
(b) List out the characteristics of an ideal nurse.
13. (a) Write a note on the socialization in the ward settings.
Or
(b) Identify the barriers of communication in the ward settings.
14. (a) Give an account of Hospital management as a service organisation.
Or
(b) Point out the features of administrative organization of the hospitals.
15. (a) Bring out the significance of equipment planning for a hospital.
Or
(b) Briefly explain the salient features of accident clinic.

PART C — (5 × 10 = 50 marks)

Answer ALL questions.

16. (a) “Human health and well-being are the ultimate goal of development” – Comment.

Or

- (b) Critically analyse the problems and prospects of health care in third world countries.

17. (a) Write an essay on the important elements of social structure of the ward.

Or

- (b) Examine the challenges and responses of the nursing profession.

18. (a) Critically evaluate the role of communication in socialisation.

Or

- (b) Assess the role of patients in improving the quality and quantity of medical care in the ward.

19. (a) “An effective organization structure is an asset to a hospital” – Comment.

Or

- (b) Bring out the significance of personnel administration in hospital organization.

20. (a) Elucidate the challenges of modernizing health care administration.

Or

- (b) Discuss the crucial factors of project development in hospital planning.
-