Q.4 Appreciate the following poem and give a suitable title to it:

[13]

Fair Daffodils, we weep to see
    You haste away so soon;
As yet the early rising sun
    Has not attain'd his noon.
    Stay, stay,
Until the hasting day
    Has run
    But to the Even-song;

And having pray'd together we
    Will go with you along.
We have short time to stay, as you
    We have as short a spring;
As quick a growth to meet decay
    As you, or anything.
    We die,
    As your hours do, and dry
    Away
    Like to the summer's rain;
Or as the pearls of morning's dew.
    Ne'er to be found again.

OR

She dwelt among the untrodden ways
    Beside the springs of Dove;
A maid whom there were none to praise,
    And very few to love:

A violet by a mossy stone
    Half-hidden from the eye!
Fair as a star, when only one
    Is shining in the sky.

She lived unknown, and few could know
    When Lucy ceased to be;
But she is in her grave, and, oh,
    The difference to me.
